Must Love Dogs

JEZ takes animal attraction to another level for Valentine's Day.

Oh, the things we do for our dogs. Never-ending walks in the dead of winter, endless kisses after a long lap of water and all the kibble (i.e., whatever you're eating) they could want only are the beginning for how far we'd go for our furry best friends. This month of love should be no different. With playful reminders of devotion for our affectionate four-leggers, these red-hot items will woo true blue pets into lifelong companionships. They don't call it puppy love for nothing. —KIMBERLY DAVIS

Love is...Juicy.

Every responsible owner knows that a JUICY COUTURE dog is a happy dog. With the pink velour bowler dog carrier with silver hardware and charms, your love, and her contentment, will never be in question. $325, Juicy Couture at Phipps Plaza.

Love is...patience.

One of the top reasons dogs end up in animal shelters is due to their lack of potty training. TELL BELL is a new specialized dog training device that permits a dog to "tell" his owner when he needs to go, bypassing all the frustration. By providing the device and methodology, Tell Bell makes bathroom breaks easy and fun, all for the love of praise. $24.97 for two Tell Bells, a training DVD and a manual, The Dog Spot and tellbell.com.

Love is...14K white gold and round brilliant diamonds.

Money can't buy love, but it certainly doesn't hinder it, either. The fine jewelry experts at Cuddly Ruff have created the 14K white gold SIGNATURE BONE-SHAPED I.D. TAG, complete with hand-selected round brilliant diamonds and the option for engraving, as a becoming addition to your little darling's collar. $2,000, cuddlyruff.com.

Love is...nothing less than designer.

For struts around the neighborhood, stylize your dog's walks with a new "Bollywood" leash by KATE SPADE. Adorable, not ostentatious, this patent neon pink version will do more than keep your pooch close by; it will keep her passion for fashion in line. $125, Kate Spade and katespade.com.

Love is...showing how you feel without saying anything at all.

When words alone are not enough, express how you feel about your pooch with the JEWELLED HEART NECKLACE by Doggie Designer. Swarovski crystals will provide the shine to the star that is your dog. $30, Doggi Boutique and doggiedesigner.com.

Jez & Bella
